Dear Readers/ Research Scholars,

The present age is the age of Mathematics. In every field of scientific research, Mathematics is playing a vital role with manifold diversities. Mathematics is stretching its roots to all the directions of modern research. Keeping in view the importance of Mathematics, IJSIMR is extending it's services to bring out new aspects of innovative mathematical research.

I express my special thanks to all those persons who are directly or indirectly concerned with this sacred performance of knowledge.

I am happy to inform you that in this issue we are starting a special series-"Ingenuity of Srinivasa Ramanujan" authored by Prof.N.Ch.Pattabhi Ramacharyulu, Retired Professor, National Institute of Technology, Warangal. It is a known fact that some of Srinivasa Ramanujan's elementary problems need to be popularized in teaching institutions particularly at the basic levels.

As per the norms of IJSIMR, The Best Article Award has been given to Guochun Wen and Yanhui Zhang for the article entitled "Singular Modified Riemann-Hilbert Problems for Nonlinear Elliptic Complex Equations of First Order".

The special features of International Journal of Scientific and Innovative Mathematical Research (IJSIMR) are:
