

Editorial

Dear Readers/ Research Scholars,

In the field of research “The place of guide” is matchless. He is the man who directs us in proper direction and drives us to the goal of success. He is just like a “light house”. As the light house shows the path of the shore, the guide also paves the way for our success. In fact he is our friend philosopher and guide. That is why in Indian philosophy a good teacher is considered to be a “Guru” and respected as a god. Students of all ages bowed their heads at the feet of their Guru. Let us also pay our respects to all the teachers, right from the stage of elementary school to the age of research achievements.

The salient Features of International Journal of Scientific and Innovative Mathematical Research (IJSIMR) are:

The Small drops of water make a stream. The streams joining together become a river. The rivers ultimately form an ocean. So is the case with encouragement and cooperation also. The cooperation when extends in manifold directions becomes the strength of any movement. We humbly expect such type of cooperation and encouragement from you.

With Best Regards
Dr.K.V.L.N.Acharyulu
